RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

Vowell, Chief Special Master:

On July 3, 2014, Joseph J. Kraus filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, *et seq.*² [the “Vaccine Act” or “Program”]. Petitioner alleged that he suffered neurapraxia as a result of a tetanus-diphtheria-acellular pertussis [“Tdap”] vaccination he received on August 25, 2011. Petition at 2. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On September 29, 2014, respondent filed her Rule 4(c) report [“Res. Report”], in which she concedes that petitioner is entitled to compensation in this case. Res. Report at 2. Specifically, respondent indicates that the facts of the case support a finding that petitioner suffered the Vaccine Table Injury of brachial neuritis within 2 to 28 days of receiving the Tdap vaccine. Id. at 4. Respondent agrees that petitioner’s injury lasted for more than 6 months and was not caused by a factor unrelated to the Tdap vaccine. Res. Report at 4.

² National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986, Pub. L. No. 99-660, 100 Stat. 3755. Hereinafter, for ease of citation, all “§” references to the Vaccine Act will be to the pertinent subparagraph of 42 U.S.C. § 300aa (2006).

In view of respondent's concession and the evidence before me, I find that petitioner is entitled to compensation.
